WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the As-

At the Cabinet meeting today he announced this and indicated that the next step in the case would not long be delayed. The whole matter was discussed in a general way, but no action was taken as there is nothing to be done until the correspondence is published. It is ascertained that the President will accompany the transmission of the correspondence by a message on the sphiect that will advance certain propo sitions that will be the final attitude of the administration in a very positive manner. San Diego, Jan. 15.—Admiral Brown was interviewed tonight for an opinio was interviewed today in the an opinion as to the report that a vessel had been chartered by the Government to take a cargo of coal from Nanaimo to Chile. He said he did not believe a word of it and that the Government would not take coal there except under stress of circumstances. "We can get all the circumstances. "We can get all the coal we want there at Acapulco and in Peru," he said, "and it is absurd to think the Government would go away up to Nanaimo."

With reference to the probable future With reference to the probable future movements of the cruisers, the Admiral was as mum as an oyster. He would not admit that he knew anything as to the future. The Baltimore, Charleston and San Francisco are underorders to await further instructions. That was all.

From other sources it was learned that sailing orders were received by Capt. Remey of the Charleston today.

She will leave here Monday evening or Tuesday morning. Her destination is not stated, but it is believed the cruiser will first go to Mare Island to be cleaned of the growth on her bottom and then proceed to South Pacific waters. It is unofficially said that the Baltimore will report here at once to Admiral Proper. report here at once to Admiral Brown.

Paymaster W. Goldsborough of the Charleston has been appointed fleet paymaster of the Pacific squadron, vice Pay Inspector Arthur Burtls, detached on leave of absence.

Repairing the Baltimore.

Vallejo, Jan. 15.—An examination proves that the Baltimore was not injured by contact with the Vallejo shore. She drifted and settled on the alluvial deposit, and, on the turn of the tide, floated off without assistance. She will not be docked again. A force of machinists and boiler makers are at work on her engines and boilers, overhauling them for the first time in two years. All repairs to the ship will be finished inside of twelve days. The Mohican is in the stream ready for service, and the Adams and Ranger are being put in readiness for service.

The Cushing Gets Orders. NEWPORT (R. I.,) Jan. 15.—Com-nander Winslow, of the torpedo boat Cushing, has received orders to proceed to the Brooklyn navy-yard and now only awaits favorable weather. The officers letailed have not yet reported to the vessel. At the torpedo station considerable activity is displayed. By Telegraph to The Times.

LAREDO (Tex.,) Jan. 15.—[By the Associated , Press.] It is understood that the Federal and State forces are now to be placed in such a manner as to round up the counties which have been infested by Garza's followers. A cordon has been made and the troops will close up and make arrest of parties known or suspected of being violators

A circular printed in the Mexican language was quietly circulated here today denying that Garza is a renegade, bandit, etc., and reiterating the old charges of autocacy, etc., against the Diaz administration. The question which puzzles the authorities now is what has become of Garza's band of followers. followers.

The Decorous Fiction That the Whole Nation Sorrows Denied.

A Vast Workmen's Gathering Decline Resolutions of Condolence.

The Upper and Middle Classes Ostentation in Tokens of Sorrow-Princess Mary's Grief Over the Loss of Her Affianced.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—[Copyright, 1892, by the New York Associated Press.] The decorous fiction that the whole nation is overwhelmed with grief at the death of the Duke of Clarence received a startling denial today in the proceedings of the greatest workmen's union in England. The delegates to the Miners' Federation, now holding their annual meeting at Stoke-on-Trent, were apprised before assembling that their representatives in Parliament desired that the federation should adopt resolutions of condolence. The strong demo-cratic feeling known to suffuse the body made the proposal hazardous, but it was hoped the delegates would not venture to deviate from the general custom by declaring that a death in the royal family was no particular business of theirs.

This is exactly what they did. A telegram from their parliamentary leader, Pickard, asked for a vote of sympathy with the royal family, adding: "The Queen has always expressed sympathy with us." Cries of "Business" greeted the message. A member who moved a vote of condolence reminded the delegates that the Queen in accidents in the mines always helped the distressed. In sullen silence the conference listened to a speech in favor of the motion and then by a vote of 19 to 13 passed with out debate an amendment to proceed to business. The Miners' Federation has 200,000 members and is the best or-200,000 members and is the best organized and most powerful single union in the country. It has several representatives in Parliament and controls the votes of others. No workmen's combination has shown keener perception of the sufferings of the proletariat. Interference with the family affairs of royalty being felt to be beyond them, they honestly said so. The delegates immediately proceeded to vote sympathy with and substantial help for the starving nail makers of the midland districts who have long been on a strike. strike.

The upper and middle classes are most keenly touched by incidents of the Duke of Clarence's death. Thousands clad in mourning have flocked to Marlborough House to record their names, and throughout the capital wellnames, and throughout the capital welldressed folks generally are donning some badge of grief. The Prince of Wales and family will not appear in public for a year to come. The Princess of Wales, after the funeral, is going to some secluded spot in the south of Europe with her daughter. Both are in delicate health, and their condition is now a source of increased anyiety to now a source of increased anxiety to the family. Prince George, who is still weak from his attack of typhoid fever, is also a cause of anxiety.

Princess Mary's future is undoubtedly a subject of deep national interest. As a precedent for her marriage to Prince George, the incident is recalled of the death of the Czarevitch in 1865, after his betrothal to Princess Dagmar, now the wife of his brother, the present the wife of his brother, the present Czar. So profound and universal is the sympathy over her loss that it would be no surprise if Parliaments. no surprise if Parliament accorded her some provision as maiden widow. If the report be true that Prince George is attached to the daughter of Prince Christian, his known strong will makes the project of an alliance with Princess Mary improbable. In the family circle Prince George has long been recognized as the superior of his brother in intellect, force of character and open geniality of disposition. From boyhood he has always held his own against his brother's pretensions as an elder. concurrent opinion of those around the throne points to a future of popularity of Prince George if he lives to become LONDON, Jan. 15.—Apprehension is felt in many quarters regarding the son-dition of the Princess of Wales, who takes the death of her son very much to heart and refuses to be comforted. Her long service in the sick rooms of both Prince George and Prince Victor have had the effect of greatly debilitating her, and today she is prostrated. Princess Victoria Mary, whose polgnant sorrow at the loss of her betrothed husband is intense, is also prostrated, refusing to touch food. Much anxiety is expressed regarding her.

Princess Mary stood beside her royal lover and through her blinding tears watched him as his life ebbed away. When the doctors announced that the heart and refuses to be comforted

When the doctors announced that the Duke was dead she became hysterical and her cries were heartrending. Efforts were made to lead her from the room, but for a long time nothing could induce her to leave the death chamber. She stood by the bedside and leaning over she called: "Eddie, my Eddle!" in agonized tones, and entreated him to peak to her once more.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 15.—The death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale caused widespread and deep sorrow through-out India. All public business was sus-pended as a mark of respect. The Ra-jah of Bhinga, in behalf of the native races, expressed the deepest regret at the death of the duke and most pro-found sympathy with the imperial fam-ily. All public fetes have been post-

Terrible Accident on the Northern Pacific.

A Sleeper Goes Down an Embankment and Takes Fire.

Two Women Burned to Death-The Remains Charred to a Crisp.

Large Number of Others Fearfully In-Jured-The Victims All Members an Opera Company—Scenes of Horror.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 15 .- (By the Asso ciated Press. ] A special train carrying the Andrews Opera Company was de-railed near Brainard on the Northern Pacific early this morning. A sleeper caught fire and two members of the company were burned to death.

The train left West Superior at midnight for Grand Forks. Near Jonesville the train struck a broken rail. The engine and baggage cars passed over it in safety, but the sleeping car was derailed. It toppled over, breaking loose from the train and went, down an embankment, lying on its side. Soon the windows were broken to liberate those inside. Flames shot out in very short order and soon the car was enveloped. The trainmen soon liberated those unable to extricate themselves, but none were able to save their clothes, and the night being the coldest of the season, the thermometer reaching 46° below zero, the suffering of the injured was terrible. At this time it was discovered that Mrs. Ed Andrews and Lily Wallace were missing, but no human effort could render them assistance, as the car was a mass of flames. They were burned to death. The injured were placed in the baggage car and brought to Brainard and quartered at the Farrington Hotel. Miss Douglas when brought from the car was literally enveloped in flames. She will probably recover. The women she will probably recover. The women were nearly nude, but were wrapped up as they were taken out. The bodies of the two women burned were charred beyond recognition. Ed Andrews rescued his little baby and at first supposed. his wife was safe. He is wild his wife was safe. He is wild with grief.

Conductor Hall says the catastrophe was sudden, there being not a shadow of warning. The train was not running over twenty-five miles an hour. The bodies of Mrs. Andrews and Lily Wallace were horribly disfigured. They were probably instantly killed when the first crash came.

The following is a complete list of the injured: Florence Joy, chorus

the injured: Florence Joy, chorus girl; Miss Letitia Fritch, prima donna; Mrs. L. F. Barker, her sister; Miss May Douglas, chorus girl; Miss Marie Roe, soprano; George Andrews, baritone; Miss Lou Harris, chorus girl; Jay A. Taylor, tenor; Howard Allen, chorus singer; Fred Allen, chorus singer; Miss Josie Shearer, chorus girl; W. F. Bar-Josie Shearer, chorus girl; W. F. Bar-ker, son and Mrs. Barker; W. A. Wirth, chorus singer; Bert Lincoln, singer; G. E. Moody, leader of the or-chestra; Mrs. Al Wakefield, wife of the yards from the end, and the piece breaking in five pieces. The members of the company lost everything except their stage clothes, including musical instruments, watches and money.

Cardinal Gibbons Denounces the Lottery. New York, Jan. 15.—A letter is made public tomght written by Cardinal Gibhons to Gen. George Johnson on the subject of the Louisiana lottery, the result of an interview had by the General with the Cardinal. He, in the strongest terms, condemns the scandalous business of the lottery; says it is an enemy to the honesty and peace of any community, to the happiness and com-fort of the homes of individuals and to thrift and enterprise, and it is the duty of every upright citizen and earnest Christian to aid in its dethronement or suppression. He says in conclusion that he raises his voice in prayer that our faithful people might help forward the good work of putting an end to its ravages.

Amusing Scene in Justice Owen Court Yesterday Afternoon — A

Judgment Collected After Many Days.

Rather an amusing civil case was dis-posed of in Justice Owens' court yesterday. It will be remembered that a man named James Tromley was sued in Justice Austin's court a few weeks ago by a little woman who lives next door to him, and who during his absence attended his wife in confinement, as a doctor could not be secured. woman, who used to be The little midwife, but has been out of business since her marriage, thought Tromley should pay her for her trouble, as she should pay her for her trouble, as she was up all night with his wife while he was down town having a good time going to fires, etc., and she asked him for the modest sum of $10. He refused, however, and offered her $5, notwith-standing the fact that he knew it would have cost him from $25 to $50 had a regular physician attended his wife.

The little woman refused to take $5, and the result was a lawsuit, in which

and the result was a lawsuit, in which she got judgment, and in summing up the case the Court stated that he was sorry she did not sue Tromley for $25.

Ever since the case was decided the constables have been trying to get the money out of Tromley, but he refused to pay up, and as they could find nothing to levy on they were about to give up the case, when the midwife called on Justice Owens and told him that Tromley was selling out and she believed he was about to leave the country. Under the law of this State if a creditor believes a debtor is about to leave the county he can have him arrested and taken into court and examined as to sorry she did not sue Tromley for $25 aken into court and examined as to what property he has.

On these grounds Tromley was cited appear before Justice Owens at once.
He was sworn and stated that he had

He was sworn and stated that he had nothing, but the Court had learned that the fellow had been paid $180 early in the day, and he wanted to know what had become of the money.

Tromley stated that he gave it to his wife to pay her grocery bills, but he did not know what the bills amounted to and could give no information, so Mrs. Tromely was sent for. Her husband was very anxious to see and converse with her before she appeared in court, but the Court held him back until after she had been examined. Mrs. Tromley stated that her husband had given her the money and when asked where it was she said she had it in her pocket, and the Court ordered her to where it was she said she had it in her pocket, and the Court ordered her to hand over to his clerk the judgment and costs, amounting to $28.50, which she did, and just as she was leaving the room her husband came in and a whispered conversation took place between the two, when Tromley was heard to ask why she paid the money over, and the poor little woman whimpered that she was afraid His Honor would put her in jail.

Dr. Wong Him
Chinese physician and surgeon, has resided in Los Angeles seventeen it? years. His reputation as a thorough physician has been fully established and appreciated by many. his large practice is sufficient proof of his ability and honesty.

The doctor graduated in the foremost colleges, also practiced in the largest hospitals of Canton, China. The doctor speaks Spanish fluently.

A Ten Years' Showing for Los Angeles City and County. The Decennial Anniversary Number of THE TIMES, published December 4, 1891, and the Annual Trade Number, published January 1, 1892, are issues of exceptional merit, making together three full sheets filled with solid information about the rare country of the Southern Pacific Slope.

Citizens! spread these publication abroad by hundreds and thousands of copies! They are the most interesting and effective missionary agents that can be sent out, by reason, particularly, of the ten years' showing and contrast presented in their columns. They are distinctively Los Angeles publications, and make the city and county luminous. All the matter in these issues is of per manent interest-the merely ephemeral portions having been eliminated. They will, therefore, be timely for months to come; but now is the best time to circulate them, and 100,000 copies can be supplied for that purpose.

Orders sent to the counting-room—by mail, messenger or TIMES carriers—will be carefully filled.

The Visitors Cordially Welcomed to California.

A Visit to the Citrus Fair Now Being Held at Auburn.

Royally Entertained by the San Francisco Press Clubs.

Up the Programme—Preparations for the Entertainment of the Visitors in This City.

The delegates to the convention of the International League of Press Clubs reached California on Wednesday morning, making the first stop at Auburn, where they visited the citrus fair and were loaded up with horticultural products of the N.C.B. Arriving at San Francisco on the same day, they were met by a special committee from the San Francisco Press Club and escorted to the Baldwin Hotel, where they will remain until Tuesday night. E. J. Baldwin sent down his four-in-hand coach, with a bugier and servants in red liveries, to head the procession. The citizens of San Francisco have raised a large sum of money and the delegates are being entertained in grand style. The governing board of the league was dined by M. H. de Young at his residence on Wednesday evening and later the members, with the other delegates, assembled at the Press Club rooms, where they kept the "late watch." An entertainment was provided, including speeches, songs, instrumental music and, last but not least, two big punch bowls.

The programme on Thursday included a visit to the Golden Gate Park conservatory, Sutro Heights, where the guests were lunched by Mr. Sutro, and a drive around the ocean cliff. In the afternoon the delegates met at the Press Club rooms for the convention, and attended a reception at the same place later in the evening.

Yesterday the delegates made a trip around the bay, the large tug Relief having been secured for the occasion. The weather was clear and bright. Tomorrow evening the visitors will take a run down to San José, stopping until Monday evening. Mayor Barber of Santa Barbara, on behalf of the authorities and press of that city, has extended an invitation to the league, promising them a warm welcome.

Among the prominent visitors are Mrs. Frank Leslie, who recently married Willie Wilde, a brother of Oscar, but is careful to explain that the Legisiature had passed a special law permitting her to use always the name of Frank Leslie; Kate Field. the bright woman who edits "Kate Field's Washington;" Ellta Proctor Otis, society woman, amateur actress and founder of the New York Saturday Review, and Irving Watson and wife, of the Naragansett (R. I.) Herald.

The train bearing the visitors is the handsomest that ever came to the Coast. It was made up by the Vanderbit lines, whose guests the delegates and their friends were. It left New York on the 5th in the midst of a blinding snowstorm, and snowstorms followed them all the way across the continent until they crossed the Sierras and entered the Sacramento Valley. Short stops were made at Chicago, Omaha, Denver, Leadville, Glenwood Springs and Salt Lake. A novel and pleasant feature of the trip was the publishing of a

AN AZUSA SENSATION.

The Elopement of Young Roberts and

Last Tuesday a young man walked into the County Clerk's office and asked for a marriage license. He made the customary affidavit as to the age, etc.,
and it was issued as follows:

Shortly after the young man left an old man put in an appearance and asked the deputy to read over the marriage licenses issued on that day. The request was granted, and when the Roberts-Page license was read the old man called a halt, saying that was what he was looking for. He then asked who had sworn to the girl's age as 18 years, and, when told that Roberts had done so, replied that she was only 16, and he proposed to have the matter investigated. He then left the office, and from what he said the officers thought that the next thing they would hear would be an arrest for perjury, but nothing came of it and the matter was dropped.

would be an arrest for perjury, but nothing came of it and the matter was dropped.

It now appears that there is quite a romance behind the affair, which has created quite a sensation at Azusa, where the families of the young people reside. On Tuesday last young Roberts, who is the son of H. C. Roberts, one of the oldest residents of Azusa, went to the schoolhouse in that place, where he met Miss Page, one of the pupils, who is only 16 years of age, and the couple eloped to Los Angeles, where no time was lost in getting a marriage license, young Roberts giving the lady's age at 18 years. Miss Page's father came by the next train, but he was too late to prevent the marriage. The young couple are now living at Lamanda Park, and the families on both sides are now reconciled to the match.

OBSTRUCTIONIST HOLMAN did very well to withdraw his measure for repairs. It is all right to guard public expenditures with a jealous eve, but the United States is not ready to turn clam and shut up its shell. Other appropriations are just as necessary as those for the maintainance of the Government departments. We need to go on enlarging and improving our navy: we need to fortify our seaports; we need to improve our waterways; we should encourage the building of the Nicaragua Canal, even to the extent of holding a controlling interest in it by the Gov ernment; we need public buildings in various parts of the country. OUR FAMOUS CAPTAINS.

The Great Books for Veteran Soldiers and American Citizens. There are thousands of comrades who fought during the war under the leadership of the four great generals, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and McClellan, who would have purchased the memoirs of these historic captains when published had the price been placed at a reasonable figure. There is an opportunity now, however, as the Cosmopolitan Maga zine of New York has purchased 600, 000 volumes of the memoirs in the original subscription editions, bound in green and gold cloth, and is almost giving them away in connection with yearly subscriptions to that popular magazine. They contain the personal history of the great commanders, and form an indispensable part of the history of the country. No library, private or public, large or little, is complete without them.

By special contract THE TIMES enabled to give its readers the benefit of this great offer, which is fully exin our advertising pages. Never has a book had such a sale in the United States as "Gen. Grant's Memoirs." Over 650,000 copies have already gone into the homes of the rich, but the subscription price of $7 has placed it beyond the reach of people in moderate circumstances. If 650,000 people have been willing to pay $7 for "Grant's Memoirs," there must be some thousands more in California who will want them at the low price for which they are now offered by us. The edition which we are offering is the publishers' original edition, best paper, green and gold cloth binding, hitherto sold by subscription for $7. Our offer is an extraordinary one, when taken, as it is, in connection with the Cosmopolitan and THE TIMES, either daily or weekly.

The Citrus Fair Problem.

The managers of the coming citrus fair are in something of a quandary over the question whether or not they shall encourage the arrangement of fruit displays in the highly decorative forms hitherto in vogue-i. e., representing miniature pagodas, courthouses, insane asylums, landscapes, arches, pillars, globes and so forth. Many of the practical orange-growers, who are expected to furnish the fruit for display, and who certainly ought to have something to say about the manner of displaying it. are strongly against this meretricious practice. They say it is unfair to judge fruit by any other standard than its intrinsic merit. They say that a table of fruit plainly set in plates. layers or pyramids is all that is required for a good, honest display. They say that, when decorative arrangement is allowed to cut a figure, an exhibit done in the form of a steamboat with mediocre fruit is liable to carry the palm over a much better exhibit plainly set out. They argue that, even if the strongest effort is made to judge the fruit by two independent standards, awarding separate premiums for best display and for finest fruit, there is still an undue prominence given to mere decorative art by giving it an equal standing with the results of scientific orticulture. After all, it is horticulture that furnishes the exhibit, and hor iculture should receive the honors.

We are bound to say that we think the orange-growers have the main points of the argument. We might even arry the subject further, and say we think that the decorative idea hasn't leg to stand on. For, when we come to onsider the matter according to good esthetic standards (and decorations appeal to nothing if not to the esthetic ense) oranges, lemons and limes are not the kind of material which properly lend themselves to the construction of ninature steamboats or churches. When thus employed they are inappropriate and out of place. Such use suggests those home-made nightmares of 'ornament' which we sometimes meet in the way of picture frames faced with shells stuck into a bed of putty: pictures worked in worsted; wreaths made of hair; decorated fire-shovels hung by a knot of blue ribbon and all that sort of thing. It is not fine art in any sense, but the prostitution of would art to the most beastly taste. Hence we say that, while the horse-car faced with oranges and lemons may be a drawing feature in a citrus fair, it is little less than an outrage on real esthetic sensibilities and an injustice to good horticulture. It is our idea that the decorative impulse in these matters is a fad which has about run its course It was only attractive when it was new and unique. The public have had enough of it and now want a change.

Nevertheless, it is necessary that a citrus fair should be rendered as beautiful and attractive as possible. The people who attend these fairs are mainly not experts in fruit, and do not take the keen delight in oranges and emons pure and simple that is experienced by the growers. Therefore let the exhibition hall be made as gorgeous as possible. But, for once, let us see whether the ends of good taste and lights, are very great. Let the managers give their earnest thoughts to the subject of decoration or pay the best talent to secure the most unique and striking designs. We might suggest that a colored fountain, illuminated by electric lights, would be something new for Los Angeles and would be very beautiful. The expense of such a feature need not be excessive. There are many other attractive things which a good decorative artist might suggest.

We think it would be best to secure this ornamentation in a business way and pay for it and have an end of the matter. There is no necessity for offering prizes for decorations. Let the prizes go to the producers of the best fruits in the several classes. Let him have the honor who merits it. In a horse fair we give our chief attention to horses; in a pastry-cook's banquet the main object is pastry; in a fruit fair let the principal feature be fruit. There is an eternal fitness for everything.

If the managers of the citrus fair will adopt these suggestions we venture the opinion that they will achieve a brilliant success. They will satisfy all interests concerned; they will please the fruit-growers and the public alike; they will draw a crowd and they will achieve a pecuniary success.

It is a hard, calloused heart that is not touched at the wees of the poor, consumptive butterfly of pleasure, "Camille," who so loves and longs for that purer, better life that society denies her.

Miss Granger at the Los Angeles Theater last night played the part with all the force and fire of true genius. There are greater "Camilles," but they are very few. In our judgment there is something too much of judgment there is something too much of querilousness in her rendering of the first acts, but in the scene with "Duval," the elder, she does some playing that is delightfully fine, and the scene in the fourth with "Armand," just before "De Varville's" insult, is the greatest bit of work in the play.

The death scene of this piece has always been our bets note. One does not go to the theater to see bedroom scenes and the ghastly prolongation of consumptive death agonies, but it must be granted that gnasty

Clarence Handyside as "Armand" appeared to much better advantage than in the plece played the previous night, and was especially strong in the fourth act. Mr. Hasting's "Count de Varville" is very heavy 'and scarcely up to the standard. Jay Hunt as "Gaston Rieux" continued the good impression, made. on the opening night, and the parts of "Nichette" and "Naning," taken by the Misses Thompson and Wyatt respectively, were well done. Mr. Mestayer as "Monsleur Duval" and Miss Michael as "Madam Prudence" did their work with intelligence and satisfaction. The house was well filled and thoroughly appreciative.

Tonight a new version of Article 47 called The troole will be given, which closes the engagement. Inherited at the matinée this afternoon.

giving the production of the precious metals for 1891, as follows: The following is our annual report of the precious metals produced in the States and Territories west of the Missouri River (including British Columbia) during 1891, which shows in the aggregate: Gold, $31,975,994; silver, $60,614,004; coper, $13,261,663; lead, $12,385,780. Total gross result, $118,237,441. The means named herein have been estimated is: Silver, 98 cents per ounce; copper, 11 cents per pound; and lead $4.30 per cwt. As in former reports, allowance must be made for probable variations from exact figures by reason of constantly increasing facilities for transporting bullion, ores and base metals from the mines outside of the express, and the difficulty of getting entirely reliable data from private sources. Especially is such the case in the reports from Montana and Colorado—in fact, we have estimated the amount credited Montana. Statistics gathered in this way are nercial" value at which the several named herein have been estimated have estimated the amount credited Mon-tana. BRIMSTONE AND TREACLE. Mr. Cummings wished to add to Mr House Democrats Have a Dothe-

Than They Can Stomach. His Resolutions Adopted with a Pickwickian Interpretation.

The Question of Clerk Hire Brings U Another Discussion on Retreno ment and Causes Enloe to Flap His Wings.

By Telegraph to The Homes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The House of Representatives of the Fifty-second Congress has declared emphatic hostility t subsidies, bounties and land grants, and pronounced in favor of rigid retrenchment in appropriations. Mr. Holman's resolutions in their entirety today were adopted by the House, but not after its author had consented that they should be interpreted in a sense "broad enough to permit all appropriate and legitimate legislation." The advocates of the World's Fair appro-priation are tonight finding great comfort in this interpretation, and even the friends of mall steamship subsidies and the sugar bounty maintain that the pledge of the Government having once passed appropriations to fulfill those obligations are "appropriate and legit-imate legislation."

When the resolutions were reached in the order of unfinished business it was generally expected that Mr. Hol-man would consent to an amendment modifying the sweeping character of the second resolution. But he surprised all but a few confidents by refusing to do anything of the kind. By unani-mous consent he withdrew his motion of last evening to reconsider the vote by which the previous question was or-dered, and said he had come to the con-clusion that the resolutions were broad enough to permit any and all appropri-ate legislation.

A reporter afterward asked Mr. Holman whether he considered that his resolution would preclude an appropriation or loan for the benefit of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago. "That will depend," said he, "upon the construction placed upon the legislation that we have already had in regard to the World's Fair. Appropriations can be made for a public object and the World's Fair appropriation will depend upon preceding legislation."

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—[By the Associated Press.] House, The following bills were introduced and referred: To test methods of spelling in schools and appropriating $100,000 to establish a spelling school at the World's Fair; placing salt, lumber, nails, cotton ties binding twine and agricultural implements on the free list; for the admission of Arizona as a State.

The House then resumed considera-tion of unfinished business, the motion to reconsider the previous question ordered on the resolution offered by Mr.

Holman.

Mr. Holman withdrew the motion He had, he said, come to the conclusion that the second maddle of the broad enough to cover any and all proper and legal appropriations. It would include all such legislation as private pension bills and the like.

The House then took up for considera-tion the report of the Committee on Ac-counts, assigning clerks to various com-mittees of the House, and a discussion ensued as to whether there was not extravagance in these assignments.

Mr. Dickerson quoted statistics to show undue expenditure in regard to clerks, and favored the minority re port cutting off several clerks. In advocating the report of the com-mittee Mr. Cooper of Indiana inciden-tally referred to the investigation of the pension office last session, and said since then it had become known that Commissioner Raum's son had sold places in the Pension Byreau and had been removed by the Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Cummings of New York rebuked the House for voting regularly for an appropriation for a clerk to every Senator, yet now proposing to cut down its own committee clerks.

Mr. Boutelle of Maine spoke at some length in a humorous strain, inveighing against the Democratic party for lack of patriotism. saying that in the last six months he had heard of only one patriotic remark by a Democrat, and that by a woman. He referred to the estimable wife of the present Governor of New York. That lady, alluding to the necessity of refurnishing the New York executive mansion, had said that it was not necessary in order to put the Governor's mansion in order to go beyond the confines of the American republic; when firms in Watertown did not have the article called for she would buy of manufacturers and im-Mr. Boutelle of Maine spoke at some would buy of manufacturers and im [Democratic applause.] Mr. foce. [Democratic applause.] Mr. Boutelle having in his speech humorously compared Mr. Holman's measure of retrenchment and reform to the scene at Dortheboys Hall, when Mrs. Squeers administers brimstone and Mr. Enloe of Tennessee said that if Mr. Boutelle had read the story further he would remember that after a time the students overturned the administration students overturned the administration and, taking the spoon, compelled Mrs. Squeers to take brimstone. That was exactly what the people had done. Twelve months ago the Republicans compelled the Democratic party to take brimstone and treacle, but the people overturned their administration, and the Democrate was now giving brim. the Democrats was now giving brim-stone to the Republicans. [Laughter.] He did not think it courteous in the gentleman from Maine to read a news-paper interview with Mrs. Flower. He should tell the House where the last set of china bought for the White House had come from, and if it was not of foreign make.

A Republican member, rising to the point of order that Mr. Enloe was not addressing himself to the question un-der consideration, Mr. Enloe expressed a hope that the presiding officer would allow him to flap his wings a little. In the last Congress the czar had chopped them off with a hatchet and he had to go to his own State to seek that freedom of debate which belongs to American citizens.

Mr. Lind, who represents a Minnesota district, said today that he felt like offering a vote of thanks to Fur-ness. Other friends of the Senate reso-lation expressed themselves as ashamed of the circumstanees that made it possible for such a movement to be started by a representative of Great Britain. The opponents of the resolution are in-clined to look upon the movement of Furness as buncombe.

Senator Turple appeared before the committee to protest against the confirmation of Judge Wood, nominated to fill a place in the Fifth Judicial Circuit. The committee laid the nomination aside until Senator Vorhees comes next week. The same course was followed as to the remaining judicial nominations, the intention of the committee being to act upon them all at the same time. From what can be gathered from interested persons the opposition to Judge Wood's nomination is not likely to have the support of any Republican Senators and it will doubtless be confirmed in the course of time.

Bitter Cold Weather in Many Parts of the East. St. Paul, Jan. 15.—By the Associated Press.] This week has been one of the coldest ever experienced in the Northwest, but there is little or no wind stirring and a great part of the ordi-nary discomfort is absent. The last very cold winter was four years ago, the Dakota blizzard caused over 200 deaths, but during that memorable January the worst thing about the weather was the cutting winds that weather was the cutting winds that blinded those who were outdoors, so that many lost their way and were frozen to death. The only issue made by the plead or attempted to be made is a question of own-crship of the note and mortgage sued on. The answer maintains that the debt is due to a different corporation, to-wit: "The president and board of trustees of St. Vincent's College." The evidence is that plaintiff was incorporated by the name of "St. Vincent's College," and by that name parted with its money and incurred the note and mortgage in question. ## A CLEVER CAPTURE.

Good Work by Mounted Detective Hus-ton-Burglar Jailed.

The police, police detectives and private detectives are kept on the jump these nights on account of the numer ous thieves that are prowling about the The officers to a man declare that the city was never so full of toughs and thieves as at present, but for some rea-son it is almost impossible to catch them, notwithstanding the fact that the son it is almost impossible to catch them, notwithstanding the fact that the detectives have "spotted" a number of these midnight prowders.

Mounted Detective Huston, commonly known among the flash gentry as one of the, "Detectives Bill," made a good catch yesterday evening. The robber gave his name as Juan Vega and claims to be a high-toned Spaniard just over from the old country, but from his appearance he is an educated Eastern crook.

Vega got tired of walking about the streets yesterday afternoon and stole a cart and horse that he found on Spring street. The detective happened to be near at hand and was soon on a hot trail. When Vega was overtaken he showed fight, but the average mounted policeman would rather fight than eat, any time, so the bluff did not go, and Mr. Horse Thief was soon headed for the central station.

On being searched the officers found.

Mr. Horse Thief was soon headed for the central station.

On being searched the officers found several lumps of gold that have been meited quite recently, and as the man could not give an account of himself, or where he got the gold, it is believed that he is one of the burglars that have been making things so lively in the resildence portion of the city during the past few weeks. The detectives believe Vega has spent his time stealing watches and melting them.

An effort will be made to induce Vega to squeal on his pals, as he is certainly one of a large gang, and it is possible that there will be several important arrests within the next few days.

SBRINERS' INSTALLATION

Masonic Hall was a scene of gayet last evening when the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Al Malaikah Temple, threw open the doors and invited the ladies to witness a public installation of the officers of that order. By 8 o'clock every one of the chairs, ar ranged in double rows on either side the hall, had its fair occupant, and shortly after the orchestra struck up a march and the officers to be installed filed in two by two, clad in their Arabic nied in two by two, clad in their Arabic costumes—Turkish trousers, "Asiatic tunics, turbans, swords, staves, etc., etc., etc., etc. They made an imposing procession as they passed down the hall and grouped themselves in picturesque attitudes on the platform. Hon. T. J. Carran installed the corps of officers and Potentate Jordan made felicitous inauguration speech, in which he referred quite pitifully to his lone state of bachelorhood and expressed the wish that he might not have to go over till another leap year in the same for-lorn condition. The group of befezzed Orientals in the background emphasized the wish of their brother, by sundry nods and other demonstrations, and the ladies looked sympathetic. Passing on to the gayer themes the potentate an-nounced that it was the intention of the Shriners to hereafter give some sort of an entertainment for the ladies once in axty days.

At the close of the ceremonies the procession reformed and retreated to the dressing-room at the rear, from whence they soon emerged in citizen's dress and took part in the social festivities which formed a pleasing part of the evening's entertainment. Canvas had been stretched over the floor of the large assembly room, and dancing was inculged, in by those who chose. In the adjoining banquet hall tables were arranged and six-handed euchre or whist absorbed the attention of the more soberly inclined.

Claret punch was served ad libitum, and it was not until a late hour that the merry Shriners and their ladies betook themselves to their homes. The Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is the highest order in Masonry, and Al Malaikah Temple numbers 250 members. Only

AN . AT HOME. "

One of the most charming receptions of the week was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. W. Poindexter, who entertained very delightfully a large company of ladies at her hand-some home on West Adams street. The affair was given in honor of Miss Wade of Santa Barbara, a sister of the hostess. While no attempt was made at special decoration the rooms were red-olent with the fragrance of English violets, which were massed about, many of the ladies wearing corsage clusters of these sweet blossoms.

Delicious sherbet, coffee and cakes were served in the dining-room, Dr. Dorothea Lummis presiding at the re-freshment table. Among the guests present were Mmes. J. S. Slauson, C. C. Carpenter, J. W. Chichester, S. S. Salisbury, A. S. Robbins, J. Wigmore, J. D. Cole, H. Ludlam, Deane, J. R. Boal, Patterson, T. A. Lewis, G. W. AN ELEGANT LUNCHEON. Miss Gorham of Santa Monica gave an elegant luncheon Thursday afternoon at the beautiful home of Senator and Mrs. J. B. Jones, complimentary to Miss Jones of Oleveland, O., and Mrs. Harry Jones of Oleveland, O., and Mrs. Harry Gorham. Covers were laid for sixteen, and the table decorations were charm-liftly being entirely of a violet tint. The dining-room was darkened, and the light from silver banquet lamps shed a flood of radiance through shades of vio-let silk. All the table appointments were in exquisite taste; the diner were in exquisite taste; the dinner cards were decorated with clusters of hand-painted violets, and a cluster of English violets tied with ribbons of the same shade were laid at each plate.

HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Leonis Richie Must Appear Before the Superior Court.

Leonis Richie, the French "crib" woman who was arrested a night or two ago on a charge of beating a "wellknown man about town," as a morning contemporary puts it, and robbed him of $20, was before Justice Austin yesterday, and the aforesaid "swell" turned up as prosecuting witness.

He gave his name as J. H. Holdeman. and has the appearance of being a poor workingman instead of a dude. That he was robbed and then beat up there is not the slightest doubt, for this is a common occurrence in that disgraceful portion of the city. Alameda street is full of the lowest type of prostitutes, and as they are owned, body and soul, by a gang of thieves who compel them to rob, it is not at all surprising that nine-tenths of the drunken workingmen who visit that quarter are robbed

The evidence before Justice Austin resterday went'to show that Holdeman who is an ignorant German laborer, spent several hours wandering about the low dens on Alameda street, and after being in the Richie wo awhile he discovered that the woman had taken a $20 gold piece out of his pocket book and replaced it with a silpocket-book and replaced it with a silver dollar.

Holdeman then began to "kick," and was promptly thrashed by the woman, who was in turn arrested by the Chinatown police squad and conducted to the central station.

Justice Austin fined her $15 for whipping Holdeman and he swore with ping Holdeman, and he swore out a complaint charging her with robbery, and she was put under $1500 bonds to appear for examination.

Children's Home Society

A meeting of the directors of this society was held in the Guild room of St. Paul's Church yesterday, at which the following permanent officers were elected: President, Rev. J. D. Easter, Ph. The object of this society is to find permanent homes in Christian families for homeless children. It works in opposition to none of the existing agencies for child-saving, but in harmony with them all. Its leading idea is that the family is the divinely appointed means for the training of mankind for the duties of life, and that a child can never be so well cared for as in a Christian home. Institutions, however well organized and conducted, are, at best, imperfect substitutes for the home. Letters of inquiry respecting the work of the society may be addressed to Rev. J. D. Easter, Los Angeles, or to Dr. J. R. Townsend, No. 79 East Colorado street, Pasadena. Pasadena.

In the North Show Window

The styles are "catchy." It shows what you may expect for the coming spring. A great many milliners never show goods until just before Easter. We are showing and selling them. The shapes are peculiarly new, and we are going after the bonnet trade the same as we have for cloaks and corsets. A new idea in the millinery room is the lessening of profits and the increasing of sales, at the same time keeping up the highest standard in the work room. No one can object to this. One of the aims of the millinery room is to have new goods at least one time each week during the season by having a standing order in New York and Chicago to send forward the very latest. It is not the enormous stocks in millinery that is sought after, but the newness and the variety coupled with extreme taste in trimming, and when this is accomplished, with low prices, the sales in millinery should be very large. You will imagine yourself in another world if you now look into the newly renovated and largely increased department. A lot of new shoes, Reynolds Bros.' make, is now on sale. A large share of attention is to be paid our shoe department this season. A few new styles and extra fine stock is shown, and there is more on the way. We shall largely advertise and push the shoe department to the front this season. More than the usual amount of attention will be given to this department the present year. We are showing the best $3 shoe you ever saw. This is a splendid leader for the year. A regular $4 quality. Come in and see it. Royal Worcester corsets and cloaks on the same floor.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and untiring eservation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease. Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservingly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicines seemed to do me good. I consulted the best physiclans and surgeons in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. After suffering great pain and having my passage almost entirely clogged, I fourteen days ago began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Today I am perfectly well. I do consider Dr. Woh themost successful physician in Southern California.

In Cleveland, O. many months ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, terminating in asthma. The doctors said there was no hope of my recovery, but that a change to California might prolong my life. February last I came to San Bernardino and doctored with three physicians but obtained no relief, finally Dr. Woh was recommended to me by a friend. I took his medicines and followed his directions and today I am perfectly well.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING. The Rees-Hutchinson Investigation at the City Hall Yesterday.

The Street Superintendent Never Accuse the Councilman of Taking Money, But Denounced the Story

Messrs. Bonsall. Tufts, Nickell and Innes, the committee appointed to in-

Innes, the committee appointed to investigate the Hutchinson-Rees matter, together with the other members of the Council, met in the Board of Public Works room in the City Hall yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

President Bonsall called the meeting to order, when the newspaper clippings, which gave rise to the inquiry, were read, and Street Superintendent Hutchinson was asked to make a statement.

Mr. Hutchinson briefly detailed the circumstances under which the conversation in regard to the $5 matter took sation in regard to the $5 matter took place. He was talking to Police Commissioner Tom A. Lewis, and incidentally the subject turned on boodling in general, and by way of illustration he stated that it had been reported that a member of the Council (Mr. Rees) was member of the Council (Mr. Rees) was getting $5 a month from a man he had in the street department. A reporter was standing by and overheard the remark and published it. He stated, in answer to questions, that he never believed that Mr. Rees was guilty of taking money. In fact, when the negro Ramsey had told him the story, months ago, he promptly characterized it as a "d—d lie." and ordered the fellow out of his office. He knew nothing about Mr. Rees receiving $5, or any other

Mr. Hutchinson repeatedly stated that he did not believe there was any truth in the story, and that he merely used it as an illustration to show how reports could be circulated about any-hody.

might be smirched. Mr. Hutchinson promptly resented the insinuation that he was "tattle-tal-ing," but stated that he intended to ing," but stated that he intended to talk to his friends on any and all subjects that he felt so disposed.

At this point Mr. McGarry stated that a colored man who wanted to get a place in the County Courthouse came to him and told him that he had been told that to do so he would have to give that man Rees money, and he had promptly told him that Mr. Rees was not that kind of a man.

Mr. Rees then demanded the name of Mr. McGarry's informant, and said that he (McGarry) was guilty of an ungen-tiemanly act in spreading such re-ports if he could not give the name of ports if he could his informant. Mr. McGarry disclaimed any inten-tion of reflecting on Mr. Rees, and if he regarded it in that light he would apol-

Mr. Rees said that under certain cir cumstances he could stand as much joking as anybody, but this was not a joking matter, and he did not like it.

Mr. McGarry then gave the name of his informant as Johnson, and the matter was dropped.

Mr. Tufts wanted to know something about that $5 business. They had been talking for some time and nothing of that sort had developed. Mr. Rees then started in to make a

Mr. Rees then started in to make a statement. The only material difference between his statement and that of Mr. Hutchinson was in regard to the amount. Mr. Rees thought $2 was mentioned in the Street Superintendent's office, while Mr. Hutchinson thought it was $5. Mr. Rees's statement has been published in full in The

Mr. Nickell finally remarked that there did not appear to be anything in the matter. No one accused any one of anything. It was mere idle gossip.

Mr. Bonsall thought there had been a great to do about nothing. There did not appear to be anything in the matter.

This view was concurred in by the other members, and the committee adjourned, and at the next meeting of the Council will present a report to that effect.

Just as the committee adjourned Po-lice Commissioner Lewis came in, and briefly detailed the conversation which led to the investigation. Mr. Hutchin-son, he said, did not accuse Mr. Rees of taking money, nor was he talking for publication when the remarks were made.

Annual Meeting of the Board of Trade.

Considerable Amount of Important Business Transacted.

Interesting Public Installation of A O. U. W. Officers.

nis Today at the Walnut Street Court-Various Items of Local Interestities.

The Board of Trade meeting held yester-day afternoon was of the overflow variety. The meeting was called for the purpose of electing a new board of directors and tha the committees might be made up anew and the personnel of the same published in the forthcoming pamphlet. Reference to the by-laws of the board developed the fact that the annual meeting and election of officers must be held in April, and that election prior to that time and without proper notice would not be in compliance with the law. with the law.

After several speakers had expatiated on the question it was finally decided that the old wheel horses were good enough anyway. It was said that the board had weathered the dark days, and those who had stood manfully by it in its weakness fught to be let alone now when the prospect is more promising. It was the unanimous opinion promising. It was the unanimous opinion that the present directors and officers should be retained.

Judge Magee stated that while he had op-Judge Magee stated that while he had op-posed any change in the directory he would say, in justice to the gentlemen themselves, and for the benefit of those present who might not fully understand the matter, that the desire to call an election originated with the directors themselves, and not from any dissatisfaction existing among the members.

from any dissatisfaction existing among the members.

President Masters called upon M. H. Weight, of the Pamphlet Committee, to tell the members what was being done in the matter of publishing a pamphlet.

Mr. Weight stated that some slight delay had been occasioned in the matter of securing the cuts, the work of engraving, which had been ordered in New York. The reading matter was nearly complete and ready for the printer. The covers, which were done by the Los Angeles Lithograph Company, are ready and have been for some little time. The size of the pamphlet is to be 6x9 and to contain thirty-two pages exclusive of the covers. The first edition will be made to get another edition for much less than the first 10,000 copies will cost. The price of the first edition will be $700.

M. E. Wood then introduced Mr. Lowe to the meeting.

In response to the invitation of the chair Mr. Lowe, with some hesitancy, proceeded to suggest that Pasadena ought to have a hospital for the care of those who were not so circumstanced that they can pay the necessary expense of coming here and haveing relatives or friends remain here and care for them. The gentleman feared it might be somewhat indelicate in him to suggest the matter to Pasadenians, being himself a stranger, but he said he felt constrained to do so even at the risk of being misunderstood in the premises. Personally he had been led to come to Pasadena by the report: he had heard from friends who had been here and who had been hended by the genial climate. He said Boston has such an institution, and the support it receives from donations has not only paid its expenses but has made it one of the wealthiest private charties in the city. Pasadena ought to do this. It should be maintained by her affuent citizens and such of her visitors as might feel disposed to contribute to so laudable an enterprise. One lady whom he knew stood ready to bestow $2000 of her money toward building a cleanly, airy and plain hospital, such as he had indicated. In all, he knew of $3000 that could be counted on and he said people east and west, north and nospital, such as he had indicated. In all, he knew of $3000 that could be counted on and he said people east and west, north and south, would call Pasadena blessed were such an institution within, her confines. A motion that a committee be appointed to investigate the project was carried. The committee will be announced at a later date.

Officers Backward About Taking Any Step for Fear of Jeopardizing Their Bondsmen-Developments Looked for Monday.

Will the officers enforce the new ordinance? It is two days old and no arrests have been made yet. The officers are very backward about being interviewed on the force the law if possible to do so without jeopardizing their bondsmen. It is evident that the officers dread to make the first arthat the officers dread to make the first arrest under an ordinance that is so severe, but they will do so, and in a very few days—not later than, probably, Monday. There was an arrest made yesterday afternoon by Officer Frank Slauker which will probably come under the new ordinance, from the fact that the parties had a bottle of whisky in their possession. The parties were J. E. Better and a companion, both from Ontario, and they were arrested for reckless driving. The officer arrested the bottle with the others and took them before Judge Morton, and it is presumed he poured it out on the ground, as required by ordinance No. 89.

The Wrong Manning.
Readers of an early edition of the Express on Thursday were astounded when they saw in the middle of a dispatch they saw in the middle of a dispatch announcing the death of the venerable prelate, Cardinal Manning, the picture of a worldly-wise looking gentleman in the prime of life with a handsome black monstache, the cut being labeled "Cardinal Manning." It is no new thing for country papers to run pictures of Mrs. Lydia Pinkham and Douglas, the shee man, in their obituary columns, but a metropolitan "gernal" like the Express ought not to try and paim off on an unsuspecting public a portrait of Cleveland's late Secretary of the Treasury for a dignitary of the Roman Catholic Church.

At a little before 9 o'clock Wednesday night the jury in the Jessrang trial entered the courtroom and handed in their verdict, pronouncing the defendant guilty of arso in the second degree. There was much speculation as to what would be the outcome, the general opinion being that the verdict of guilty ought to be found, but be-cause of the defendant's prominence and standing in several secret orders it was thought that it would result in a hung jury or that it would be out all night at least. There was consequently some surprise when the jury appeared, having been out not quite five hours. Sentence will be pro-nounced next Tuesday. This may be im-prisonment for not less than one nor more than two years. The attorneys for the defendant say that they will appeal the case.

ANOTHER BLAZE.
At 9:30 Wednesday night the barn at the outheast corner of I and Third streets was found to be ablaze, and was rapidly con-sumed by the flames. It was at one time a livery stable, but was used as a barn and livery stable, but was used as a barn and stable for valuable horses by George Becker at the time it was destroyed. With it two very valuable stallions were burned, Forest Clay valued at $5000 and Claymont valued at $1000. Upon the former there was an insurance of $2500, on the latter $500. Efforts were made to rescue the horses but the fierce flames had done their work before aid could reach them. The stalls were securely locked, and the animals were soon dead.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, and animals were soon dead.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, and all sorts of conjectures are made as to its source. Some think that it was set by the friends of Jessrang, thinking that the jury would still be sitting and that it would serve as a sort of argument that the fire flend had not been caught, and thus influence their verdict.

SKELETON UNEARTHED. uilding on E street near Ninth the work men came upon a skeleton imbedded in the earth, head downward, somewhat crowded the surface of the ground. It is in all prob ability the skelaton of a soldier, as a United States belt buckle was found with the bones. Investigation discloses the fact that there was an encampment of United States soldiers at this place for a short time in 1862, and in all probability the body was placed in a hole at that time and for some reason the fact kept a secret. The locality is upon what has always been regarded as waste ground and no excavations are known to have been made there previous to the one now going on. Upon a bottle found with the skeleton was an inscription, apparently written in India ink, for it is still clear and bright, which reads as follows: "Ambrosiaability the skelaton of a soldier, as a United bright, which reads as follows: "Ambrosis cream, made by Phaul, 120 Chestnut street Phila." There were also several other Phila." There were also several other small articles, among them an ivory pen-holder. Who this may have been and how he came there are still a deep mystery.

It happened that he was cell-mate of one J. J. Bush, sent up for life from San Bernardino, having been sent from San Diego on change of venue. The two became very intimate, and when Sattler got out after serving his sentence he set to work to secure the release of Bush by petitioning for his pardon. Deputy Sheriff Jim Buckley is not a pu gilist by profession, but he does not hesi-tate to indulge in a little "scrapping match" when the faithful performance of his du-ties as an officer of the law devolve upon it. Early yesterday morning "Jim," as he is most familiarly known by his friends and acquaintances, together with a waiter from Riepe's restaurant, went to the jail with the usual allowance of bread and water for the worthless ifmates who had refused to work in the recently organized county chain gang. The large iron doors were swung open, the ceil doors unfastened and the allowance of bread and water passed to each individual. One of the prisoners, a large, double. fisted, strong-bodied, muscular "bobo" of the colored persuasion, stepped up to Buckley and asked him why he was not sentout along with some of the other prisoners to work out his sentence, at the same time dealing the deputy sheriff a heavy blow square in the face, and then making a rush for the outside door. Buckley was stunned by the blow, but he quickly recovered and pounced upon the fugitive before he had breathed the air of freedom, and at once proceeded to hustle him back into the narrow confines of his cell in a regular Sullvan style. A laughable feature of the occurrence was that throughout the tussle the negro held onto his two slices of bread with remarkable persistence, and after the trouble was all over began munching away on his morning meal in absolute quiet and with apparent satisfaction. water for the worthless immates who had

It is painful to have to look upon the rowing differences between our morn-It is painful to have to look upon the growing differences between our morning and evening contemporaries as to how politics shall be purified; something, no doubt, equally dear to both. We fear our evening neighbor does not understand our morning neighbor. Our m. n. is broad, reaches out, covers ground that seems confusing, even bewildering to our e. n. Our m. n. can manage many things at once. It can take a little hand for a friend at court and at the same take a little hand for a friend at court and at the same time toy with the Texas oyster. [Hear! hear!] It can nurse the spheres along the cushion with great skill and patience, and run up a very large circulation; then make a sudden break by a round-the-table shot that will carom on a whole political family, one after another, till it gets them all into a corner, and then has it out with them. We do not doubt that our e. n. tries to fathem the depths of the party's ains, but the fact is it isn't equal to it. It is not constructed that way. It takes our m. n. to do these things thoroughly and well, as only a chastening yet loving hand can do; and when late at night its form is locked in slumber it enjoys that sweet serenity of soul that set even a custombouse can afferd. One Case When a Train Agent Was Mistaken.

Prouble on the Consolidated Electric Line -Competing Roads at RedIands-General, Local and Personal

Some time ago an article published in this paper related the grievance of a man who had shipped a carload of freight to Los Angeles at a certain rate. The transcontinental inspectors here had given the shipment a higher classification, mulcting the shipper out of $200 additional charges. This was commented upon generally and condemned as a practice injurious to the State's inducements for immigration.
A Times man saw the papers in the case yesterday and learned some additional particulars about it. It is claimed by the agent of the Burlington, which received the freight, that no rate was ex-plicitly stated, and as none is named on the bill of lading this looks probable. The shipment consisted of a "merry-go-round," which is operated by a steam round," which is operated by a steam engine. The agent claims that he was in doubt whether the freight could be classed as machinery, the rate on which was $1.90 a hundred, or as a "merry-go-round," which is included in the first class at a rate of $8.90. He would start the freight without quoting a rate and leave it for the inspectors at this end to determine its proper classification. As more than 90 per cent, of the weight of that shipment was nothing more or less than machin ery—engine, wheels, etc.—it may look unfair to let the presence of a few little wooden horses, zebras and spotted wooden horses, zebras and spotted deers, which when in use alternate with the red and blue boxes of the merry-gothe red and blue boxes of the merry-goround, serve to make the whole carload subject to the higher rate. The Burlington people say they are willing to take their proportion of the $1.90 rate, feeling convinced that it was the proper one to have made under the circumstance but the matter is not yet.

mstances, but the matter is not yet settled. MISTAKES OF TRAIN AGENTS. The train agents on the Southern Pa-cific passenger trains, in their zeal for catching passengers with tickets purchased from scalpers, are liable to some-times fall down. W. O. Randolph, a well-known fruit shipper doing business here and in the north, went to San Francisco the other day. He had the unused portion of a ticket which he had bought in Chicago, reading to San Fran-cisco, and it was duly tendered for his cisco, and it was duly tendered for his cisco, and it was duly tendered for his passage. The conductor punched it as all right, but later the train agent came along and required the passenger to sign his name upon a piece of paper. The signature written in a jolting car, when compared with the one written on the ticket at the coupter of a Chicago office, did not satisfy the train agent, who returned and demanded that agent, who returned and demanded that Mr. Randolph make further efforts to identify himself. The passenger indig-nantly refusing to go to further trouble to still the detective's rankling suspic-ions he was threatened with immediate and forcible ejectment from the train.

This did not frighten the passenger a little bit. But he was not thrown off, though the altercation over the matter had consumed an hour's time. Of course the train agents cannot be expected to personally know every passenger, even the heavy shippers, but some people think he ought to get along with some reasonable amount of identification. Almost any traveler is willfication. Almost any traveler is willfication. Almost any traveler is willing to exhibit a strawberry mark or a mole on the back of his neck or something else to prove he is whom he pretends to be, but to be kept writing his signature with a stub pencil upon a pad which is made to play a tremolo action by the jolting of the car in the effort to make it look like his name when flourished with a pen at a mahogany desk in a building standing perfectly still, is trying even to those possessed of saintly patience. Mr. Randolph has plenty of saintly patience, but he knows when he has enough.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AT SANTA MONICA. From the Outlook it is learned that there is considerable stir in connection with the extension of the Southern Pa-cific Railroad at Santa Monica. A force of graders are at the base of the bluff. pushing toward the canon. A gang, with carts, are digging and removing dirt at the eastern end of the tunnel. The cut preparatory to starting the tunnel on the ocean side is about completed, and in a little while both forces will be under ground and in a short time will meet, as their distance is only about 300 feet, or less. A num-ber of carpenters are also at work on the timbers for the tunnel, with the appearance of furnishing the material as fast as it is needed. Progress on the work at all points appears to be satis-factory and we shall soon see the trains passing under Ocean avenue, and run-

Columbus Buggy Co.'s Vehicles,

"WHY" You should use them . .

AIICT Those who once use them will have no other. We fully guarantee them as represented. They are best in QUALITY, STYLE and FINISH.

FACTS AND POINTS TO BE CAREFULLY NOTED.

EVERY vehicle we manufacture is fully guaranteed to be as represented. Material used throughout is the finest procurable, and in every essential point is unexcelled by even that used in the highest priced vehicles.

For USE our vehicles are unsurpassed, and are adopted by liverymen generally as being the most serviceable, at the same time handsome in design and finish, and of easy draft. In large cities they are extremely popular, because in appearance they are surpassed by none, while standing the roughest cobble-stone pavements better than any other.

than any other. Our work having passed through the test of livery service in large and fashionable cities (the severest test possible) and having proved its superiority, both as to durability and style, we know it will meet all the requirements of private use.

Don't forget we took eight medals representing that number of first premiums, over all competitors, without reference to prices (we met them all and were victorious) at the Piedmont Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 5 to Nov. 7, 1889.

Very respectfully,
